

THE LOG FLUME

Following your uncle, you round the corner to face the extremely un-operational log flume ride. Where water normally snakes through the channels of the ride, it has now frozen over, trapping several of the boats inside. “We usually offer two trips around for one ticket, but I can’t even figure out how to get the ice broken up” says your uncle, worriedly.

The Greatest surname (3)

Name shared by two continents (7)

Fiery feeling (5)

Painful conclusion (6 3)

Place of Fear or Good Hope (4)

Without worry (8)

Parsley relative (5)

Easily-concealed pistol (9)

Gal’s heroine’s alter ego (5)

Prefix with center or graph (3)

Therefore, to Caesar (4)

Blow, like Etna (5)

Breaks free of (7)

Rome invader, or black-clad teen (4)

Tool with a face, neck, and claw (6)

Swinging door’s fulcrum (5 3)

Daedalus’ son (6)

Attribute that might cause revulsion (8)

Brickyard city (12)

Sweet Sixteen org. (4)

Arranging or commanding (8)

From Krakow or Lodz (6)

Energize, like water might (7)

Deliver or melt down (6)

River or pledge activity (7)

Spit (6)

Pottery piece (5)

Last word in Webber rock opera (9)

Sailors (4)

Lightning companion (7)

Jaw protrusion, like a werewolf (9)

Stimulants, slangily (6)

Increase in value or frequency of (6 2)

Absence of matter (6)

NOTE: Dots in the lower right hand corner of letters on ice blocks are for alignment/orientation purposes only.

